PRICE TWO CENTS

DEFECTS SEEN IN PRESENT SYSTEM

Discussions Concerning Concrete Roads Reveal Demand for Radical Changes.

FARMERS ARE NOT SATISFIED

Committee Appointed to Consider What Action Shall be Taken on the Petitions.

That there is a great need for a more definite system of making road repairs and that a detailed statement showing the amount of money expended in each township and the extent of the work done should be filed at stated intervals, is the general opinion of those who have discussed the merits of the petitions asking for the new concrete highways in Jackson township. During the last few days much attention has been given to the road repair system by those who are in favor of the petitions as well as those who oppose the construction of the concrete roads at this time. These discussions have brought out many defects in the present system in use in Jackson county and several remedies have been proposed by the farmers who are more interested in better roads than any one else and who are in a position to know just what work is being done. Many of the farmers have been quietly making an investigation concerning numerous phases of the repair work and have reached the conclusion that the taxpayers have a right to know something more about the expenditure of the money.

Many of the defects which have been discussed will likely be overcome by the system inaugurated by the new highway superintendent. The farmers say that with one man at the head of the county road work they will be in a better position to make known their objections and will naturally expect better results. Incidentally, it has been discovered by the recent discussions that there is a wide spread dissatisfaction with the present manner of repairing county roads.

Nothing has been accomplished today towards effecting a settlement or compromise on the new concrete roads. After the question had been discussed from several angles at the meeting Friday afternoon a committee was appointed from those who favored the roads and those who were opposed to them for the purpose of reaching a mutual and satisfactory agreement.

The committee representing the petitions was Nathan Kaufman, Charles Roeger, Oscar Carter, G. C. Borcharding, Edward P. Elsner. The committee of the opposition was composed of the following members: George Stahl, Albert Kasting, Joe White, Henry Bettenbroek and William Base.

This committee of ten met immediately after the public session adjourned but was unable to reach a satisfactory agreement. Those opposed to the concrete roads favored a special election at which the taxpayers could decide the question. The committee representing the petitioners desired that some agreement be reached by which it would not be necessary to hold an election and offered to reduce the length of some of the roads so that the expense would not be so great.

Everyone agrees that the roads would be highly beneficial to the community and the expense is the only objection. It was hoped that some agreement would be reached today before the petitions are acted upon by the commissioners. Quite a number in favor of the roads believe that if the taxpayers fully understood the proposition the vote would be favorable.

The petitions, even if they are not granted, will result in a more widespread interest in the roads question. It is highly probable that the farmers will take some action whereby a better system may be inaugurated and the roads can be kept in much better repair for the same money that is now expended.

THIS IS LAST DAY GIVEN TO OBTAIN DOG LICENSES

Owners Neglecting to Buy Tags Before Monday Will be Required to Pay Delinquent Fees.

Paid your dog tax yet? If you have not you had better get his life insured before Monday morning as the Chief of Police may get him as an illegal inhabitant of the city. This is the last day for paying dog tax without the additional delinquent fees. Quite a number of owners secured licenses from City Clerk Johnson today and yesterday. For the accommodation of those who are unable to come to the clerk's office during the day the office will remain open for a while tonight. This will give everyone an opportunity to pay the license fee and avoid the delinquent costs.

Chief of Police has instructed the members of department to take up every dog found on the streets after today that is not wearing a tag for 1914. Heretofore the ordinance has not been enforced rigidly but the officers say that if some of the dog owners pay the required tax it is only fair that all of them pay. The dogs "arrested" will be held for several days until the owners are given reasonable time to pay the tax and delinquent fees.

FORTY-EIGHT APPLICANTS TOOK THE EXAMINATION

Opportunity Given Teachers to Make State, High School and Grade Licenses Today.

Forty-eight applicants took the teachers' examination today which was conducted at the office of the county superintendent, J. E. Payne, under his direction. The applicants were given opportunity to take examination for state license and also for high school and grade licenses. Some of the applicants have taken the examination previous to this time but are striving for a state license or to raise their percentage.

John Downing, former county commissioner, who was stricken with heart trouble Friday while talking to friends at the corner of Chestnut street and Cincinnati avenue, is much improved today.

Mrs. Martha Humes, who has been sick for some time is improving.

DATES AND PLACES OF EXAMINATIONS

Fourth Class Postmasters Will be Required to Comply With Civil Service Regulations.

EXECUTIVE ORDER ISSUED BORN IN JENNINGS COUNTY

Applicants For Seven Offices in This County Will be Examined Here April 18.

Postmasters of fourth class offices who receive salaries of $180 and over per annum will be required to pass civil service examinations if they continue to hold their jobs, an executive order having been issued to this effect. While the examination is conducted under the regular civil service rules is taken to be a means of ousting Republican postmasters so that loyal Democrats may be placed in office.

According to the order examinations will be held in ten Indiana towns on Saturday, April 4. On that date an examination will be held at Scottsburg, and Albert Charles, of the Seymour office, has received instructions to conduct the examination. Mr. Charles is secretary of the local board.

On April 18 examinations will be held in Seymour and in ninety-four other towns in Indiana. This examination will be held at the high school building and will be conducted by the local board. It is expected that quite a number of applicants will take the examination.

According to the circular issued by the postoffice department postmasters at seven towns in this county will be selected. The postoffices included in the list are, Cortland, Ewing, Kurtz, Medora, Norman Station, Sparksville and Vallonia. Applications may be obtained from any of the above named offices and a limited supply has been sent to the Seymour office.

Freetown, Maumee and Mooney are in the fourth class offices but will not be included in the examination. The postmasters at Freetown and Mooney were filed a short time ago after an examination was held and the salary of the postmaster at Maumee is not $180 so that office is not included in the order. Applicants for appointment must reside in the territory supplied by the office.

It is provided that competitive examinations will be required by the commission for the position of postmaster at all fourth-class offices at which the annual compensation is $180 or more, at which the present incumbent was not appointed under the civil service regulations. Applicants will be allowed only one examination. The application blank should be properly executed, indicating therein the examination point at which the applicant desires to be examined, and should be immediately forwarded to the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C. Persons who for any reason are unable to forward their applications in time to receive written authority to enter the examination will be examined, subject to the subsequent approval of their applications, if they appear for examination at the place and on the date given in the schedule.

PICKETT'S DEATH WAS ACCIDENTAL

Foreman of Switching Crew at Washington Who Met With Fatal Mishap Was Known Here.

Aged Mother Was in Seymour Friday Night But Was Not Aware That Her Son Was Dead.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Pickett, the aged parents of the late Edward G. Pickett, foreman of a B. & O. Southwestern switching crew at the Washington railroad yards, who was crushed to death between two freight cars Thursday morning, were here several hours Friday night waiting for the westbound B. & O. Southwestern train No. 3. They live at Washington but were in Muncie visiting relatives when they received notice of the fatal accident.

Mrs. Pickett, who is about eighty-five years old, was not told that her son was dead for fear that the shock would result fatally. She was told that he was quite seriously injured and every precaution was taken at the local depot to keep the news from her. A friend accompanied the aged couple.

The unfortunate man was well known to the local B. & O. employees. He had been engaged as a switchman at Washington for twenty-five years and had many friends among the Seymour railroad employees. Several local railroad boys were in the yards when the accident occurred and were among the first to reach the body.

Pickett was born in Jennings county forty-five years ago. He was unmarried and lived with his parents. He began his railroad career at the age of nineteen years and had served both as day and night yardmaster at the Washington shops, but at the time of his death he was foreman of the "river run" switching crew. His amiability and kindness made him a favorite with the men under his charge and his tragic death has caused widespread and keen regret.

Pickett was a member of the Knights and Ladies of Security, the Loyal Order of Moose, the Fraternal Order of Eagles and the Order of Railway Trainmen. Besides his parents, he is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Mayne Andrews of Washington, Mrs. A. W. Nixon of Muncie and Mrs. Eva M. Allen of Indianapolis, and two brothers, Elmer D. Pickett of Washington and Joseph Pickett of St. Louis.

Concerning the accident the Washington Herald says:

In the opinion of Joseph A. Wathen, who was the only eye-witness, Edward G. Pickett's death was purely accidental. Pickett was killed in the B. & O. Southwestern shops yards in this city Thursday. Wathen, a car repairer, testified before Coroner O. E. Lett of Montgomery, Thursday night.

When the accident occurred, Wathen and Pickett were walking through the yards. Wathen testified that Pickett was standing between the rails of side track number 2 near the end of a car. He was in the act of lighting his pipe, Wathen says, when some cars were kicked into the sidetrack and struck the car against which or near which Pickett was standing, causing the cars to move forward and knocking Pickett down on the track. As he fell, Pickett threw up one hand as if to shield himself. The west trucks passed over him and he was caught in the brake rigging on the east end of the car. The first wheel on the south side of the car cleared him, but the second wheel caught his head, crushing it. He was dragged forty or sixty feet and the body was so closely wedged between the brake rigging and the ground that it was necessary to disconnect the rigging before it could be removed.

W. A. Gilley, engineer of the yard engine that shoved the cars into the side track, George Stafford, yardmaster, and other railroad employees, gave their testimony to the coroner Thursday night. Other witnesses are yet to be heard.

DELINQUENCY CHARGE TO BE TAKEN UP AT ONCE

Case Against Guffey Girl May Be Called in Juvenile Court Early Next Week.

The case of May Guffey, who is charged with delinquency, will likely be called in juvenile court the first of next week. As the mayor has no jurisdiction over juvenile actions the case was taken before Judge Swails without a preliminary hearing. The girl was taken to Brownstown Friday to await a hearing.

Although her mother, Mrs. Laura L. Guffey, who is being held at the county jail because she was unable to pay her fine of $20 and costs for keeping a house of ill repute, said her daughter was seventeen years of age, Deputy Prosecutor Wesner has collected facts to show that the girl has not yet reached her sixteenth year. About a year ago Mrs. Guffey filed a suit for divorce and at that time said the girl was fourteen.

Chief of Police McCord is gathering evidence which will be used in the prosecution of a number of men who are alleged to have contributed to the girl's delinquency. Quite a long list of names are in his possession and the alleged contributory acts of each man will be investigated by the grand jury when it convenes March 9th. The Guffey woman will likely be indicted for contributing to the downfall of her own daughter and the prosecution will make an effort to send her to the woman's prison.

Bert Hammond, of this city, has been charged with contributing to the girl's delinquency and an affidavit has been filed against him. He has been arrested and is being held at the county jail awaiting the action of the court. It is said that positive evidence has been collected against a number of men and the investigations of the police authorities have not yet been completed.

Case Dismissed.

The case against Samuel Coffman, of this city, who was charged in circuit court with deserting his wife, was dismissed Friday on motion of Mrs. Coffman, the prosecuting witness. She filed the affidavit several months ago but told the prosecutor Friday that her husband had returned home and was furnishing the supplies for the house. Following the custom of dismissing such actions when requested to do so by the wife when she is the prosecuting witness Deputy Prosecutor Wesner asked that no action be taken.

DISPUTE LEFT TO STATE COMMITTEE

Democrats in Jackson and Lawrence Counties in Wrangle About Nomination of Prosecutor.

PRIMARY IS FAVORED HERE

Governor Ralston Selected as Temporary Chairman of Convention March 19.

By United Press.
Indianapolis, February 28—The first act of the Democratic state committee this afternoon was to name Governor Ralston as Temporary Chairman of the state convention which will be held at Tomlinson Hall, March 19.

Indianapolis, February 28—Committees to make all arrangements for the Democratic state convention, to be held at Tomlinson hall, March 19, were to be appointed at a meeting of the Democratic state committee, at the Denison hotel, today. These committees will plan the preliminary organization of the convention, formulate the rules and order of business, distribute the admission tickets and to look after the decorations, the music and everything else connected with the convention, but the nominations.

State chairman Bernard Korbly said also that the committee today would decide on the keynote speaker for the convention, and it was said that the choice would fall on Governor Ralston. There was some talk, too, to the effect that Chairman Korbly might announce the appointment of a secretary for the state committee. State Senator Fred Van Nuy, of Anderson, and Charles A. Sallee, private secretary to Mayor Bell, were the names mentioned in this connection.

Another matter to come before the committee was a dispute from Jackson and Lawrence counties as to how the nomination for prosecutor for those two counties shall be made. Jackson county favors a primary and Lawrence insists on nomination by a convention. They decided to leave it to the state committee to settle the dispute.

RURAL ADVANCE AND AWAKENING

Visions of a Revivified Community Life.

THE FUNDAMENTAL TASK.

Importance of Local Rural Building and the Erection of Strong Units
How This Fundamental Task Can Best Be Forwarded.

The new rural awakening is upon us. New plans are developing. There are new visions of a revivified community life in our rural neighborhoods. There is a keen eagerness in all rural welfare work. The forces of the countryside are gathering for a great forward looking movement, says Kenyon L. Butterfield in the Survey. What shall the new year bring us in our country life campaign? What shall be the chief notes of our rural campaign slogan for 1914?

It is to be remembered that the fundamental task of the rural advance is local rural community building—the gradual erection of stronger community units, founded on better farm practice, securing a fair profit through better farm business and growing mightily ambitious for a better farm life. How can this fundamental rural task best be forwarded in 1914?

First.—Organize local community campaigns in as many neighborhoods as possible. Seek the formation of a community council or federation made up of representatives of all the organizations in the neighborhood that have any interest in the common good—church, grange, women's club, farmers' club, civic improvement society, etc.

Second.—Seek to develop the collective or co-operative method of doing the business of the farm. Farmers can save money by co-operative buying of supplies needed on the farm. It is possible that they can make a larger profit by selling their products in the same co-operative manner. The co-operative plan is spreading. It should not be entered upon hastily, but it promises to render more help to the farmer than does perhaps any other one thing.

Third.—Push the idea of an agricultural high school or of an agricultural department in the public high school. Farming demands educated men and women. The agricultural colleges, neither in the classroom nor in their extension service, can meet the full need. Every boy or girl desiring the equivalent of a good high school education in and for agriculture should have the opportunity of acquiring that training.

Fourth.—Join in the demand for the passage by congress of the Lever bill appropriating federal money to the several agricultural colleges for extension work in agriculture and home economics. This means the democratizing of agricultural education the nation over. It means that the best knowledge gained in agricultural research will be placed at the disposal of the humblest farmer; that a great educational campaign for better farming in all its aspects will be carried into every farming community.

This bill, if enacted into law, promises not only a distinct advance in the agricultural educational field, but indeed a national intellectual uplift of great proportions and significance.

Fifth.—Strive for at least preliminary steps to bring together on a national basis the various agencies that are seeking rural welfare. This is merely the nationalizing of the plan for local rural community building. The many activities and institutions engaged in promoting agriculture should be correlated. The country life movement should be integrated. We should look upon the rural problem as a unity. We should try to solve it on large lines and with solidified endeavor.

Sixth.—Above all, perhaps, try to stir religious forces to new effort in the rural field. The country church faces a crisis. Rural advance is leaving the church behind. But the rural movement must not become materialistic. It can easily be spiritualized. It needs the leadership of that institution that stands supremely for the great ideals of love and brotherhood and service. The rural Sunday school, the rural Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. should be encouraged and strengthened everywhere. We need their point of view, and above all we need their ideals of character building and of community building.

So may the new year set a new standard in all rural life endeavor.

New Projectile For Navy.

Interesting experiments are being conducted at the Washington navy yard looking to the development of the twelve inch caliber open hearth type. The shell, when completed, will be tested at the Indian Head proving ground and the results will determine whether the navy ordnance bureau shall undertake the manufacture of these projectiles. The bureau has recently devised a floating mine costing about $75, and is making 100 of them for trial.

PLAYGROUNDS IN STREETS.

Washington Has Been Following a Plan Successful in European Cities.

There is a movement on foot in Washington among those interested in the welfare of the school children which bids fair to solve in many instances the problem of lack of playground during their recesses for the pupils of the public schools, a problem which, owing to the neglect of the school authorities of former years to provide sufficient space for the increased number of scholars, has in many cases become a most serious one.

The solution of the trouble, as provided by the movement, is to appropriate a certain portion of the street during the recess time. At the outset the method of closing a public street against vehicles for ten or fifteen minutes during the busy portion of the day seemed impracticable, but on limiting the application only to those schools that are not in crowded business sections and applying it specially to those in the residence quarter—where, indeed, most of the scholars are—it has been found that, as far as removing any objections that can be raised to the plan are concerned, the project is feasible.

The proposed plan is to set aside a block of the street roadway during the recess time by means of ropes that can be readily adjusted to poles set in the curb in a few seconds. The barrier could thus be erected or removed by some of the older pupils almost instantly. It would not extend across the sidewalk.

The matter of making to dwellers within the inclosed area some compensation was found readily adjustable by a plan of granting them certain privileges over other blocks. Thus a greater number of street lights, a more thorough police supervision, the keeping of the sidewalk and roadway in a special state of cleanliness and the immediate removal by the city of all snow were found privileges for which the residents would gladly put up with the inconvenience of a crowd of children playing in the street, a condition which, as several of the residents affected declared, existed anyhow.

The Washington plan has been tried in many of the leading European cities, and the citizens have been unanimously enthusiastic in praising its success.

WIN YOUR SPURS.

Young men talk of trusting to the spur of occasion. That trust is vain. Occasions cannot make spurs. If you expect to wear spurs you must win them. If you wish to use them you must buckle them to your own heels before you go into the fight.

EVOLUTION OF SOUTH AMERICA

Old Spanish Customs Go and Women Gain More Liberty.

PARIS HATS FOR SENORITAS

Auction Bridge Played With Avidity In Peru—The Chaperon Not Now Considered an Indispensable Part of the Social Fabric—Changes Largely Due to Foreigners.

Women in South America are asserting themselves, writes Charles M. Pepper in the Chicago Record-Herald. No one familiar with these countries, he goes on, can fail to note the change in social usages and customs that has taken place during the last ten years. The change is still going on. It is not a revolutionary movement or a militant one, but simply an evolution that is not yet complete.

The traditional idea is that in every Spanish American town the dark eyed señoritas and señoras are seen twice a week in public, the occasion being the Thursday night and Sunday night band concerts in the plaza, when they turn out and parade the walks while a procession of young men and old men going in the opposite direction passes them and repasses them. This still happens, but the practice is changing, and now, except in a very few of the remoter places, one has to depend on something more than the semi-weekly band concert as the means of learning something of Spanish American women, and the opportunity is not lacking.

Reform in Courtship.

Another cherished custom is also yielding to the spirit of innovation. Spanish American courtship is not less romantic than it once was, but it is less in public.

Once on the Magdalena river, taking the sidewalk flat bottomed boat for the long voyage up the river, I noticed the large amount of personal baggage that bore the names of two ladies of Bogota. "Hats from Paris and New York," said the purser resignedly as he separated the boxes from the heavier cargo.

A bevy of schoolgirls attracted the attention of an American who had lived in Peru for many years. "They are going to the roller skating rink," he remarked, "and you see there is no older sister, no family servant, with them. Ten years ago this would have been impossible."

Just at that time a bridge tournament at the National club was in progress. I think it was auction bridge. For several evenings everybody in social life in Lima was there. "Just imagine," said the same American, "how it would have seemed a few years ago to have suggested that these ladies should take part in affairs of this kind. Everybody would have been horrified."

The functions at which the fashionable women of South America are most in evidence are the bullfights and the races. The bullfight prevails in few of the countries, but where it does exist it is very largely a social function, and the ladies wear their smartest gowns, as in Spain. The same is true of the horse races. In Santiago and Valparaiso at the races the most gorgeous costumes and the latest Paris creations are most in evidence.

The theater and the opera afford the opportunity for the display of gorgeous gowns. This is in particular true of Buenos Aires and Rio de Janeiro.

Passing of the Chaperon.

The chaperon is one of the disappearing South American institutions, and her disappearance marks another stage in the evolution of the South American women. But it was left to the young women of Buenos Aires apparently to signalize the golf course as the place from which she should make her exit.

Man's position in this evolutionary period among the women of South America is that of resigned acquiescence. Man in South America occupies about the same position that he does in continental Europe. His home life is agreeable. He is kind to his women folks, too indulgent to his children and quite selfish in everything that relates to his own pleasures. His club life is, or used to be, quite apart from his home life. Now he is beginning to share this club life with his wife. The auction bridge tournaments or similar social events give him the opportunity.

The part of the foreigner in this evolution among South American women is not to be entirely ignored. The North American, the Englishman or the German, who is part of it, is not himself conscious of his own position. He has, however, an influence which indirectly is affecting the movement.

Mexico City's Beautiful Avenue.

The Paseo de la Reforma, in the city of Mexico, the almost realized dream of the unhappy Empress Carlotta, is an avenue which, either in conception or accomplishment, will bear comparison with any in the world.

From the central plaza of the city, around which the government buildings are grouped, runs the old Calle de San Francisco. This broadens out into the Avenida Juarez, which runs past the Alameda, and its end is the starting point of the Paseo.

From this point it stretches in a straight line for three miles to the executive mansion on the heights of Chapultepec, a broad, faultlessly paved thoroughfare. At each of five places on its length is laid out what in France would be called a rond point or in London a circus, but which, in his vivid speech, the Mexican has called a "glorietta." In the first of these is a statue of Charles IV.; in the second, one of Columbus; the next is dedicated to the Aztec heroes, the fourth commemorates the independence of the nation, and the last awaits the hero of the future.

Moreover, this great avenue is not a simple boulevard. At one side, passing across a narrow, tree lined road lawn, a paved footway is reached, along the far side of which, facing the main boulevard, are numerous monumental stone seats. Back of this is another road lawn similar to the first and then the roadway upon which the buildings face.

A Startling Debut.

A comedy of errors describes the first appearance on the stage of Huntley Wright. He was supposed to impersonate the warder of a madhouse, and the scene opened with the brutal ill treatment of the hero, and it ended with a gunpowder explosion. In his nervousness the warder dropped his cap, and, being agitated and short-sighted, he picked up the pan of gunpowder instead. It instantly blew up, nearly frightening him out of his wits. He rushed from the stage and collapsed, as he thought, on a stool in the wings, which turned out to be a fire bucket full of water!

TELLS STORY OF ELECTION FRAUD

Remarkable Confession On the Witness Stand.

DR. ZARING "COMES CLEAN"

Not Only Does He Tell the Jury in the Trial of William Huffman How Those Marked Ballots Were Secured at Terre Haute, but His Testimony Is Corroborated by Edward Whistler, Who Gives Further Details.

Terre Haute, Ind., Feb. 28.—During the trial of William Huffman, former city councilman, who is accused of election fraud, Dr. Everett T. Zaring, member of the city administration and under indictment on a charge of being implicated with Huffman and others, made a complete confession, setting forth a conspiracy in which 158 official ballots were marked for the Democratic city ticket and a similar number for candidates for school trustee on the night preceding the election.

Dr. Zaring went into detail and traced the ballots for Precinct D from the time they were taken from a saloon in that precinct until they were marked, initialed and folded in the home of Grover Smith, another who is facing a charge of election fraud.

Dr. Zaring's story was corroborated in full by Edward Whistler, who also made a complete confession of his part of the plot. Whistler's confession brought out additional proof of the state's contention, Whistler declaring under oath that Huffman not only urged the taking of the ballots to be marked, but that on the afternoon of election day Huffman, after resigning as inspector, paid him (Whistler), Helmick and John Page $10 each. Later, he said, Huffman paid him $10 more when the marked ballots were given to Huffman. The witness said Huffman burned the marked ballots.

Dr. Zaring has resigned as a member of the city Board of health and has gone to Chicago to take a post-graduate course in a medical school.

JURY ACQUITS DR. CLAYTON

Verdict Quickly Returned in Indianapolis Murder Case.

Lebanon, Ind., Feb. 28.—Within five minutes after receiving instructions, the jury in the case of Dr. Charles M. Clayton of Indianapolis, charged with the murder of Joseph H. Stout, reached a verdict of acquittal. Only one ballot was taken. Within ten minutes the verdict had been read in open court and the defendant was a free man. Dr. Clayton unexpectedly returned to his home in Indianapolis one day last September and found his wife receiving the caresses of Stout, who was a driver of an oil wagon. He shot the man.

The crowd which had packed the courtroom to its limit anticipated an early verdict and remained. Many in the audience could not restrain themselves and when the verdict of "not guilty" was read, expressions of noisy approval were heard all over the room before they could be checked by the court.

Dr. Clayton, although he was confident of acquittal, was deeply affected by the verdict. He sank forward on the table at which he sat and his frame shook with the sobs he could not repress. For several minutes after he had gained control of his emotions he was kept busy greeting the people who pressed forward to extend congratulations.

STORK VISITS COURTHOUSE

County Building at Fort Wayne Is Put to a New Use.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Feb. 28.—The stork invaded the Allen county building, when Mrs. Lawrence Schoppmann, wife of a young farmer, gave birth to a baby daughter in the woman's room. Physicians and an ambulance were summoned and the mother and her baby were hurried to Hope hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Schoppmann were in the city shopping and had an appointment to meet at a specified corner to return home. The ambulance with his wife and daughter passed the husband on its way to the hospital. After a long wait the husband became alarmed and appealed to the police. Then he learned that he was a father.

Trial Set For March 6. South Bend, Ind., Feb. 28.—Eleven persons charged with contempt of court in having disobeyed the order of Judge Walter A. Funk when they refused to permit the installation of the Rev. BAUCH'S ABSENCE A CONTINUED MYSTERY

Definitely Settled He Is Not In Juarez Jail.

El Paso, Feb. 27.—That Gustav Bauch is not a prisoner in Juarez was virtually positively shown when a party of American newspaper men was conducted through the municipal jail and all the quarters where prisoners might be held. The whereabouts of Bauch, dead or alive, is still unknown, but the fact is definitely established that he is not a prisoner in Juarez.

The correspondents were given permission to talk freely with all prisoners, Mexicans or Americans, as the party passed through. The most definite information secured concerning the missing German-American was from prisoners in the Juarez jail where Bauch was first confined after his arrest on February 18.

"I last saw Bauch on Wednesday afternoon, February 18, when he was taken from here by a squad of soldiers," said Matt Giddings, an American prisoner in the Juarez jail. "I do not know where they took him."

Late that afternoon Bauch was seen in a cell in the basement of the Juarez theater by American Consul Edwards. K. J. Baca, a New Mexican cattleman, said that Bauch was taken from the basement of the theater Wednesday night. There is no evidence that anybody has seen Bauch since Wednesday.

JOINT CONFERENCE IS UNABLE TO SETTLE IT

Miners and Operators Cannot Get Together.

Philadelphia, Feb. 27.—After being in session for several weeks to arrange a new wage scale for the central competitive field, the joint conference of miners and operators adjourned sine die without reaching an agreement.

It was stated that this does not necessarily mean a strike, as the existing agreement does not expire until March 31. It is expected the general conference will be reconvened in a western city between now and March 31.

The break came on the demand which provides that local differences be settled within local districts. On this question the miners' demand was as follows:

"That all local inequalities and internal differences be referred to the various districts affected for settlement."

The operators refused this and proposed the following, which is the third paragraph in the existing agreement adopted at Cleveland in 1912:

"That internal differences be referred for adjustment to the various districts affected, it being understood that nothing shall be done in district or subdistrict conventions that will increase the cost of production or reduce the earning capacity of the men."

It was said that if an agreement could have been reached on this demand the other differences would have been adjusted without great trouble. No understanding, however, had been reached on any one of the other ten demands of the miners.

Methodist Minister Recommends Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Rev. James A. Lewis, Milaca, Minn., writes: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been a needed and welcome guest in our home for a number of years. I highly recommend it to my fellows as being a medicine worthy of trial in cases of colds, coughs and croup." Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a trial and we are confident you will find it very effectual and continue to use it as occasion requires for years to come, as many others have done. Druggists Throw Out the Boze. Flora, Ind., Feb. 25.—This town has been made more "dry" by the action of the three druggists, who say they have returned their entire stocks of liquor, compelling physicians to lay in their own supplies for medicinal purposes.

PLANNING FOR THE FUTURE.

In every pursuit of life we acknowledge the necessity of planning for the future. Preparedness is just as necessary for large groups of people as for an individual. City planning simply means getting ready for the future in city growth. It is the guidance into proper channels of a community's impulses toward a larger and broader life. On its face it has to do with things physical—the laying out of streets and parks and rapid transit lines. But its real significance is far deeper. A proper city plan has a powerful influence for good upon the mental and moral development of the people. It is the firm base for the building of a healthy and happy community.—George McAneny.

FIGURES—AND FIGURES

At the banquet given in Chicago by the Brewers' association to Mr. Vopica, the newly appointed United States minister to the Balkan States and one of their own number, the speakers attempted to show up their business as one of the financial props of the country.

Among the statements made were these:

1. The brewers own and operate 1,400 extensive plants, manned by 67,000 wage earners on whom 300,000 depend for legitimate livelihood and support.

2. The brewers of this country have an invested capital of $670,000,000, and the value of their annual products is $375,000,000. They pay out in wages and salaries annually $63,000,000.

3. They use annually $100,000,000 worth of grain and other materials.

Granting that these figures are correct let us remember that the account between the nation and the brewers has a debit as well as a credit side. Put over against the "value of the produce" and the 67,000 employees with their "wages and salaries" the amount of inefficiency and the number of deaths caused by the alcohol in beer—inefficiency and deaths which entail an army of delinquents and dependents for the state to care of—and the 1,400 brewing plants are found to be quite as serious a drain upon the country's assets (its finances and its citizenship) as are the distilleries which some of the beer men are trying to put out of business.

As regards the amount of grain used by the brewers, let us listen to Prof. John A. Nichols of Boston, who has made an exhaustive study of the drink question from the financial and industrial viewpoint. Following is an excerpt from his text book, "Economic Studies in the Liquor Problem," prepared for the course of study of the young people's branch of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

"Investigation shows that only a very small part of the farmers' products are taken by the breweries and distilleries. For instance, during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1911, 114,508,855 bushels of barley, wheat, rye, corn and oats were used in making alcoholic liquors. But the farmers raised, during the year 1910, a total of 5,143,187,000 bushels of these same grains and this shows that the liquor traffic uses less than two and a half per cent. of the five leading grain crops of the land. For every bushel of grain used by the breweries and distilleries more than forty-four and three-fifths bushels are used for legitimate food purposes. One of every one hundred dollars' worth of grain sold by the farmer the brewer and distiller buy about $2.25 1/2 worth."

(Query: If brewers and distillers combined use less than 2 1/2 per cent. of the farmers' grain, what proportion is used by the brewers alone?)

A PERTINENT QUESTION.

Under the caption "Alcohol Causes Most Woe," the Chicago Tribune recently called attention to the annual report of the court of domestic relations just given to the public. "Unimpeachable figures, incapable of mendacity," it says, shows that the "demon rum" is the cause of 46 per cent. of the breaking-up-of-family cases.

The report advocates a law compelling keepers of prisons and workhouses to pay a portion of the earnings of deserters to their wives and children. Why not urge a law which will reduce the number of deserting husbands 46 per cent? As Jack London points out in his biographical story, "John Barleycorn," men drink because alcohol is everywhere "accessible." Why not make inaccessible that which "causes most woe" to families and most trouble to the state? To a voting citizen and a taxpayer this question seems in order, and one that will not down until satisfactorily answered.

LIQUOR AT ASBURY PARK.

Asbury park, where, in November, the National W. C. T. U. held its fortieth annual convention, has a resident population of 25,000, and more than a million people visit the city each summer. Its founder made in every deed a restriction against the manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquor, although as far as he knew, there was not at that time another seaside resort or incorporated town on the American continent or in Europe where in the deeds the sale of liquor was prohibited. Croakers and timid ones predicted that a total abstinence seaside resort only fifty miles from New York could never be a success. The result has proved the contrary. Asbury Park is the social and commercial center of the north New Jersey coast.

HARM IN MODERATION.

It is not the one who goes on an occasional spree and then abstains who sustains the greatest injury. The one who resorts to alcohol in small doses daily is being injured to a greater extent than the man who drinks to excess occasionally. It is the continuous mild irritation that brings about the organic degenerative changes in the blood vessels and organs of the body. The man who indulges immoderately on widely separated occasions gives his body a chance to recuperate.—Dr. D. H. Kress, Washington.

Nothing is Impossible

You may think it impossible to have your earning power doubled, tripled or quadrupled, but the realization of such an ambition is no more impossible than flying from New York to Los Angeles—telephoning from New York to Denver—or telegraphing without wires from San Francisco to Japan, all of which has been done within the last year.

The International Correspondence Schools offer to men with ambition the opportunity to make their dreams come true. Thousands of ambitious men are now taking this short cut to better positions—to greater home comforts—to a higher standing as citizens.

Now if you have said, "I CAN DO IT!"—say, "I WILL DO IT!" and the I. C. S. will help you to succeed. Just mark the coupon, for that is the first step.

This step will bring you without any obligation on your part, all particulars as to how the I. C. S. trains you for success and the realization of your ambition.

Modern education is very different from the ancient modes. Then it was compelling force that ruled with a rod of iron, but the world learned that it could not force power out of any human being. Compulsion brings out the worst in human nature, while attraction brings out the best. The great achievements of the world have been spontaneous; they have been joy achievements—when the man or woman gloried in their work. It has well been said that "The aim in modern education is to teach one to find joy and gladness in achievement." No matter what your work or business is resolve to do it better and better each day as the months and the years roll by—you will then find joy and gladness and win success.—Shelbyville Republican.

HELPING THE MANUFACTURER WHO HELPS YOU

Mr. Merchant:—Work with the manufacturer who is enterprising enough to help make a market for you rather than with the one who does nothing.

Of course, you must keep the kind of goods the public wants.

But where all things are equal you should let it be known that you will be more friendly towards the goods of the man who helps you market them than to the one who stocks up your shelves with his goods and lets you get rid of them the best way you can.

As a rule, advertised goods under a standard name are better quality than the nondescript kind, because the manufacturer of the former is striving to build a reputation.

When you put your own name on a brand of goods you are pretty certain as to the quality—are you not?

The manufacturer has more at stake than you have.

The reason the public favors advertised goods is that it has come to know that advertised brands are usually the best.

The Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers Association, World Building, New York, solicits correspondence with manufacturers interested in newspaper advertising and co-operative dealer work.

Chickens Found in Sack.

Chief of Police McCord is holding eight chickens at the jail until their owner can be found. The chickens were found in a wagon belonging to Edarius Lewis, colored, who conducts a store on West Brown street. He said he did not know how the sack came to be in his wagon and asked the police to take charge of the chickens. They were evidently stolen and concealed there. There were nine in the sack but one had died.

Notice.

The Chief of Police has found a sack of chickens on West Brown street and owners who identify the same can have them.

SCANDAL HEIGHTENED IN THAT ARMY TRIAL

Conflicting Orders Confuse
Court Martial.

New London, Conn., Feb. 28.—Major Benjamin M. Koehler's court martial has been thrown into confusion and the scandal so far attending it has been heightened by the departure for the Philippines of Major General Thomas H. Barry, commanding the department of the east.

General Barry, who ordered a secret court martial, had left Governor's Island but a few hours, it is said there, when an order came from Secretary of War Garrison declaring the Koehler trial open to the public.

The order hardly had reached Fort Terry, where the trial had started, when an appeal from it was telegraphed back to Washington.

No session was held today, and it is uncertain when the court will reconvene.

Tennessee's Saloons Close Tonight.

Nashville, Tenn., Feb. 28.—Tonight all saloons in Tennessee will close and all breweries will discontinue work, as on March 1 the prohibition "nuisance act" passed in the stormy days of the third session of the legislature last fall will become effective. Memphis will be affected most, for neither the saloons nor the breweries there paid any attention to the state-wide prohibition act passed in 1909. But the saloons will shut down tonight by voluntary action. Liquor will not be allowed to be sold by druggists on physicians' prescriptions.

Woman Sent to Death House.

Salamanca, N. Y., Feb. 28.—Mrs. Cynthia Buffum was found guilty in the first degree for the poisoning of her husband by means of arsenic poisoning. Judge Brown sentenced her to be electrocuted at Auburn during the week of April 6, and she left this morning for the death house at Auburn under guard.

Adelaide, Feb. 28.—Dr. Douglas Mawson, the Australasian explorer, has returned here from the antarctic on board the Aurora.

HAD CATARRH FIVE YEARS.

Mr. Johnson of St. Elmo, Illinois, was troubled five years with catarrh. The catarrh was so severe in his case that his life seemed threatened.

Of course he tried to get relief. Many practitioners were consulted and a catarrh specialist in St. Louis was tried. He got so weak and thoroughly run down that he declares he could not walk more than a hundred yards without resting.

Few people understand that catarrh is a constant drain on the system. The discharge of mucus which is going on in such cases is largely composed of blood serum, and is a great waste. Sooner or later it will weaken the strongest man.

According to reports received from Mr. Johnson, he was in a desperate condition, but he found relief from his trouble. We will let him say how he found it. His own words say:

"My friends told me to take Peruna, and I did so. I now feel that Peruna has saved my life. It is the best medicine on earth, and I would not be without it."

This seems almost too good to be true. No doubt there are some readers that will think so. The above statements, however, can be verified by writing Mr. Johnson.

Every home should be provided with the last edition of "The Ills of Life," sent free by the Peruna Co., Columbus, Ohio.

STATION AGENT HIT BY SNOW BALL AND TROUBLE FOLLOWS

Elizabethtown Youth is Injured When He struck Bertram Piercy on the Leg.

Some men and a larger number of boys of Elizabethtown got a lot of fun out of snowballing Thursday but in the course of the day it got one man and one boy into a lot of trouble. The man is Bertram Piercy, Pennsylvania station agent at Elizabethtown, and the boy is Virgil Voyles, the 17-year-old son of Frank Voyles, of Elizabethtown.

As the story of the trouble goes young Voyles threw a snow ball which struck the station agent on one of his legs. It is charged that the snow ball was built around a piece of coal. Anyway Piercy is said to have lost his temper and to have hit young Voyles with some pieces of coal, which he threw.

Piercy is also said to have taken something, presumably a pair of pinchers or pliers used in sealing freight cars, from his pocket with which he hit young Voyles on the side of his head, cutting a deep gash. The injured youth was taken to the office of Dr. Jackson where his hurt was dressed.

Frank Voyles, father of the injured youth, came to Columbus Friday morning to consult with Prosecutor Harding about filing an affidavit against Piercy.—Columbus Herald.

VICE HOUSES IN ST. LOUIS CLOSED BY POLICE ORDER

"Gradual Elimination Plan" Started Early in Year When Liquor Sales Were Prohibited.

By United Press.
St. Louis, February 28.—All vice houses in St. Louis were to be closed to-night at midnight according to the "gradual elimination plan" of the Board of Police Commissioners, who started the movement to clear out the tenderloin early in the year. About 325 inmates were expected to be driven from the houses tonight. The St. Louis police began with clamping down the lid tight on the selling of liquor in the tenderloin. Next came a schedule of "early closing", and forbidding music in the houses. The last big movement of the "gradual plan" was the forcing of the telephone companies to remove all telephones. The women have, in the majority of cases, gone to Chicago and other large cities.

TAFT WARNS TO KEEP HANDS OFF

Gives Some Advice to the Interventionists.
POINTS OUT THE DIFFICULTIES

Those Who Lightly Look Forward to Intervention Either Are Regardless of Loss of Life and Treasure, or Else They Don't Know What Armed Intervention on the Part of This Government Will Mean, Says Mr. Taft.

Washington, Feb. 28.—Last night former President William H. Taft lifted his voice in a warning to the American people against intervention in Mexico. It was the first time Mr. Taft has commented publicly on any of the delicate foreign problems confronting the Wilson administration. Mr. Taft was speaking before the National Geographic society. In regard to Mexico he said:

"The situation is in such a condition that it will be improper for me to comment on it, except to say this: That those who lightly look forward to intervention either are utterly regardless of the loss of life and the expenditure of immense treasure, or else they don't know what armed intervention on the part of this government in Mexico will mean. Those of us who have had experience in the tranquilizing of a tropical country with a people not very different from the Mexicans, who take naturally to guerilla warfare, and who would rather fight than work—that is, rather fight and run than work—know the difficulties that an army would have to meet to accomplish the only purpose that we would have in going in, to wit, the bringing about of law and order."

Mr. Taft at White House.
Washington, Feb. 28.—Former President Taft took luncheon at the White House yesterday with President Wilson.

SHADOW OF THE GALLOWS

No Longer Rests Over the Head of Mrs. Kate Edwards.

Reading, Pa., Feb. 28.—Mrs. Kate Edwards, who has been in the shadow of the gallows for nearly thirteen years for the killing of her husband, has been released from the Berks county jail under a pardon granted by Governor Tener and secretly taken from the city to begin life over again. She was convicted of first degree murder in 1901 and sentenced to be hanged, but four governors declined to fix a day for her execution.

After her conviction petitions were circulated in many parts of the country and were signed by thousands of women protesting against the execution of one of their sex. Mrs. Edwards's case was several times taken to the board of pardons, but commutation of sentence was always refused. Last month, however, the board recommended that she be pardoned provided she would not be made a victim of further notoriety. It is believed she was taken to Philadelphia, where she will be placed in an institution and cared for. She is nearly sixty years old. Mrs. Edwards was tried for the murder along with a negro who was employed with her husband in a quarry near here. Mrs. Edwards said the negro was innocent, and he was acquitted.

Mrs. Edwards has five children who are living in different parts of the country.

FOUND HIM IN CALIFORNIA

Man Who Jumped Bail at Frankfort More Than a Year Ago.

Frankfort, Ind., Feb. 28.—David J. Rigrish, an Indianapolis man, who is wanted here to serve a jail sentence of five months and to pay a fine of $500 for operating a "blind tiger," has been arrested in California, according to a telegram received from John Miller, sheriff of Clinton county. Rigrish forfeited a cash bond of $1,500 when he failed to appear in the circuit court here more than a year ago to be sentenced, after the supreme court had refused a new trial.

Rigrish was arrested at Los Angeles last week, but before the sheriff could reach there, he being delayed by storms and high waters, Rigrish obtained his freedom by habeas corpus action. However, Rigrish was shadowed by California police officers until Mr. Miller arrived. The sheriff is now enroute home with the prisoner.

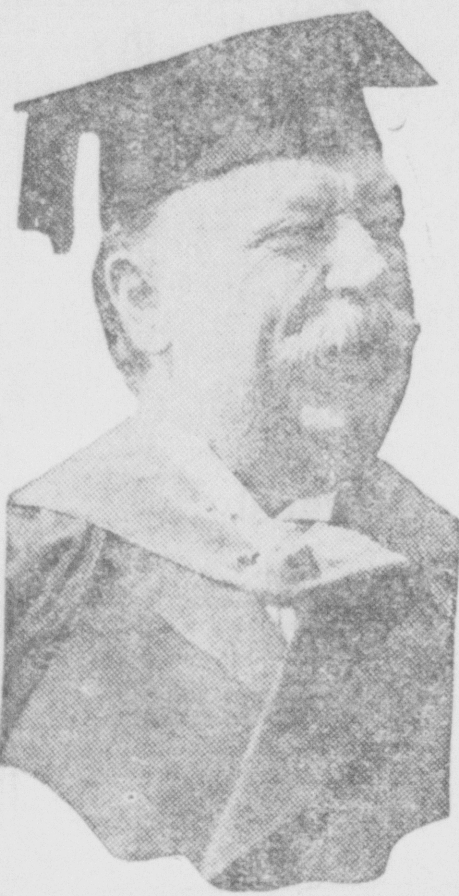

Pleaded Guilty to Larceny.

Anderson, Ind., Feb. 28.—Harry Sisk, aged twenty-five, of Marion, pleaded guilty to larceny when arraigned in the Madison circuit court. Sisk was accused of having robbed two stores at Summitville. He admitted stealing fifty-five pocket knives from one store and several pairs of silk hose from another. He also is accused of stealing a small amount of money from a cash drawer.

MORE INDICTMENTS IN FRANKLIN CASE

Six Wall Street Brokers Now Facing Charges.

New York, Feb. 28.—United States District Court Judge Hollister has just received sealed indictments against six Wall street brokers in connection with alleged stock selling frauds of Franklin's, Inc., candy manufacturers, whose president, F. N. Franklin, has already been indicted with Hova Adolphus Brown, a broker, by the federal grand jury.

It is alleged that the six defendants continued to sell the company's stock to the public notwithstanding the first arrests. Before the first indictments, it is said, $500,000 in stock had been unloaded and now the public has $500,000 more.

The government contends that the company made a profit of 1,000 per cent on the sale of its stock. At the time the concern's stock was put on the market the plant at Long Island City had not been completed. The names of the indicted brokers have been withheld.

A Municipal Theater.

The little town of Lewes, Del., has conducted a successful municipal theater for several years, where clean amusement for its citizens is offered. The theater was built by public subscription several years ago and is in charge of a small commission, which looks after its affairs. When the young men and ladies of the town want to hold a dance the hall is turned over to them free of charge. For all home talent affairs as well the hall is given gratis. A piano has been purchased and is being paid for by subscription and from the income of amateur plays. The theater is also used to attract conventions, and any respectable theatrical company may have the place for a moderate sum.

FRANK W. MONDELL

Wyoming Congressman Takes Issue With President Wilson.

WILSON'S POLICY IS OPENLY CRITICISED

Minority Party In House No Longer Silent.

Washington, Feb. 28.—In criticism of the Mexican policy of the Wilson administration, another speech has been made in the house, this time by Representative Mondell of Wyoming, a Republican leader. This is the third time this week that a Republican has denounced in the house the president's policy of "watchful waiting" over Mexico.

From now on it is the purpose of the house Republicans to comment on developments in the Mexican situation, thus departing from the policy of silence adopted at the instance of the administration.

Representative Mondell criticised in sharp terms the foreign policy of Secretary of State Bryan and intimated that Mr. Bryan had not given that attention to affairs in Mexico that their importance warranted.

Mr. Mondell declared that he was convinced that the policy of "watchful waiting" had prolonged "the lamentable conditions of appalling disorder and distress which prevail in Mexico."

Dore Victim of Assassin.

Muskogee, Okla., Feb. 28.—Patrick Dore was shot and killed at Westville, the bullet striking him in the back and killing him instantly as he walked down the street. Tandy Folsom is under arrest charged with the shooting. Dore was Roosevelt's personal bodyguard at the Chicago convention in 1912.

Then Took His Own Life.

Hammond, Ind., Feb. 28.—Peter Lapovich of East Chicago shot his wife and then killed himself. The woman may die. A boarder in the Lapovich home heard the two quarreling in their bedroom and the shooting followed. Mrs. Lapovich recently had caused her husband's arrest after he had beaten her.

TERSE TELEGRAMS

"Basic developments continue favorable," says Bradstreet's report for the week.

Sarah A. Eldridge, eighty-three years old, committed suicide at Logansport by hanging herself from a rafter in a barn.

Fire starting from a defective flue destroyed the elevator of the Montpelier (Ind.) Grain and Milling company. The loss is $15,000.

Strong defense of the Pacific coast by marines is authorized in the naval appropriation bill, which will soon be reported in the house.

Definite arrangements for a match between Jack Johnson and Frank Moran have been closed. The fight will take place in Paris on June 17.

"While weather conditions had a tendency to check progress in commercial and industrial channels, reports from the leading centers continue optimistic in tenor," says Dun's weekly review.

The senate has passed the bill giving effect to the provisions of the fisheries treaty with Great Britain, which is intended to regulate the fisheries in the boundary waters between the United States and Canada.

Four indictments have been ordered by the grand jury which has been investigating graft conditions on Blackwell's Island, charging perjury against men connected with furnishing supplies to the penitentiary workshop.

It was disclosed at a meeting of the house committee on foreign affairs that an overwhelming majority of that body is opposed to taking action on any resolution of inquiry that may be introduced bearing on the Mexican situation.

A resolution addressed to President Wilson asking him to give immediate attention to the problem of unemployment in this country was passed at a mass meeting in New York where unemployment and methods of overcoming it was discussed.

COLQUITT MAKES POINTED DEMAND

Asks Direct Information From the President.

SEEKING TO AVENGE VERGARA

In an Effort to Concentrate the Authority For the Killing of a Texas Citizen by Federal Soldiers on the Other Side of the Border, the Governor of the Lone Star State Becomes Insistent.

Austin, Tex., Feb. 28.—That Clemente Vergara, a native and citizen of Texas, was shot and not hanged by the federals was disclosed in a detailed report received by Governor Colquitt from Ranger Captain Sanders at Laredo. Governor Colquitt has sent another telegram to Secretary Bryan insisting upon an answer to his question as to whom the United States recognizes as the constituted authority in the state of Nuevo Leon, in order that the murderers of Vergara may be extradited and punished.

Washington, Feb. 28.—Secretary of State Bryan will accept the offer of General Villa of a special train to convey to Chihuahua official representatives of the governments of the United States and Great Britain, including medical officers, there to view the body of Benton, the British rancher executed by Villa a few days ago.

This announcement was made by Secretary Bryan following an hour's conference with Ambassador Spring-Rice, during which the British envoy sought to impress on the secretary of state the deep feeling which is shared by the British government and people equally in regard to the Benton case. It was declared that the party will go to Chihuahua as soon as necessary arrangements are made.

Present indications are that there will be several more days of delay before the trip to Chihuahua is undertaken by the American and British representatives. Mr. Bryan has not received from General Villa any definite information as to when the special train promised will be furnished, or as to what measures of protection, if any, will be afforded the members of the party.

The party will consist of Consul Edwards for the United States or possibly George C. Carothers, also of the consular service, who is now in El Paso; one or two army surgeons, the number not yet having been decided upon; the British consul, Charles Percival, and such other persons as he may choose to designate as a representative of Great Britain in the matter; possibly another surgeon, Mrs. Benton, widow of the dead man, whose presence is considered imperative for purposes of identification, and such other relatives of Benton as may care to join the party. Secretary Garrison will ask General Bliss, commanding the southern division, to designate one or two army medical officers for the duty of examining the Benton body.

The greatest skepticism was voiced here as to the expedition to Chihuahua proving worth while. Few officials aside from Mr. Bryan believe that Villa has been or is acting in good faith.

MUST GO TO SUNDAY SCHOOL

Court Puts Wabash Boy on Unusual Probation For a Year.

Wabash, Ind., Feb. 28.—For the first time in the history of the municipal court in Wabash a prisoner has been sentenced to Sunday school. Judge Wilson is determined the conditions shall be carried out to the letter. The sentence will not be suspended. A boy was brought into police court charged with petit larceny. Mrs. Sarah Ciders, a neighbor, was the prosecuting witness. She said the boy had stolen a dollar from her. The prisoner pleaded not guilty.

Judge Wilson found the lad guilty. "I shall fine you $2 and costs," said the judge, "which will amount to $15. That will be suspended, however. Then I shall sentence you to one year in Sunday school. Each Sunday morning you will be required to report to W. J. Creighton, superintendent of the First Methodist Episcopal Sunday school. If you ever miss for any reason other than sickness or death you will be brought back into court and your case will be reopened."

Industrial conditions are rapidly improving in the Pittsburgh districts.

CHAPTER XXXII.

Renunciation.

The grim posse that gathered in haste that afternoon did not ride far. Its work had been singularly well done. It brought back to Damory court, however, a white bulldog whose broken leg made him would-be joyful bark trail into a sad whimper as his owner took him into welcoming arms.

Next day the major was carried to his final rest in the myrtled shadow of St. Andrew's. At the service the old church was crowded to its doors. Valiant occupied a humble place at one side—the others, he knew, were older friends than he. The light of the late afternoon came dimly in through the stained-glass windows and seemed to clothe with subtle colors the voice of the rector as he read the solemn service. The responses came brokenly, and their were tears on many faces.

Valiant could see the side-face of the doctor, its saturnine grimace strangely moved, and beyond him, Shirley and her mother. Many glanced at them, for the major's will had been opened that morning and few there had been surprised to learn that, save for a life-annuity for old Jereboam, he had left everything he possessed to Shirley. Miss Mattie Sue was beside them, and between, with weeping, sat Ricker Snyder. Shirley's arm lay sheltering about the small shoulders as if it would stay the passion of grief that from time to time shook them.

The evening before had been further darkened by the child's disappearance and Miss Mattie Sue had sat through half the night in tearful anxiety. It was Valiant who had solved the riddle. In her first wild compunction, Ricker had gasped out the story of her meeting with Grief King, his threat and her own terrorized silence, and when he heard of this he had guessed her whereabouts. He had found her at the Dome, in the deserted cabin from which on a snowy night six years ago, Shirley had rescued her. She had fled there in her shabbiest dress, her toys and trinkets left behind, taking with her only a string of blue glass beads that had been Shirley's last Christmas present.

He Went Upstairs, Into the Bedrooms One by One.

"Let me stay!" she had wailed. "I'm not fit to live down there! It's all my fault that it happened. I was a coward. I ought to stay here in Hell's-Half-Acre forever and ever!" Valiant had carried her back in his arms down the mountain—she had been too spent to walk.

He thought of this now as he saw that arm about the child in that protective, almost motherly gesture. It made his own heartache more unbearable. Such a little time ago he had felt that arm about him!

He leaned his hot head against the cool plastered wall, trying to keep his mind on the solemn reading. But Shirley's voice and laugh seemed to be running eerily through the chanting lines, and her face shut out pulpit and lectern. It swept over him suddenly that each abominable hour could but make the situation more impossible for them both. He had seen her as she entered the church, had thought her even paler than in the wood, the bluish shadows deeper under her eyes. Those delicate charms were in eclipse.

And it was he who was to blame! It came to him with a stab of enlightenment. He had been thinking only of himself all the while. But for her, it was his presence that had now become the unbearable thing. A cold sweat broke on his forehead. " . . . for I am a stranger with thee, and a sojourner; as all my fathers were. O spare me a little, that I may recover my strength before I go hence. . . . " The intoning voice fell dully on his ears.

To go away! To pass out of her life, to a future empty of her? How could he do that? When he had parted from her in the rain he had felt a frenzy of obstinacy. It had seemed so clear that the barrier must in the end yield before their love. He had never thought of surrender. Now he told himself that flight was all that was left him. She—her happiness—nothing else mattered. Damory court and its future—the plans he had made—the Valiant name—in that clarifying instant he knew that all these, from that May day on the Red road, had clung about her. She had been the inspiration of all.

"Lead, kindly Light, amid the encircling gloom—"

The voices of the unvested choir rose clearly and some one at his side was whispering that this had been the major's favorite hymn. But he scarcely heard.

When the service was ended the people filled the big yard while the last reverent words were spoken at the grave. Valiant, standing with the rest, saw Shirley, with her mother and the doctor, pass out of the gate. She was not looking toward him. A mist was before his eyes as they drove away, and the vision of her remained wavering and indistinct—a pale blurred face under shining hair.

He realized after a time that the yard was empty and the sexton was locking the church door. He went slowly to the gate, and just outside some one spoke to him. It was Chisholm Lusk. They had not met since the night of the ball. Even in his own preoccupation, Valiant noted that Lusk's face seemed to have lost its exuberant youthfulness. It was worn as if with sleeplessness, and had a look of suffering that touched him. And all at once, while they stood looking at each other, Valiant knew what the old had waited to say.

"I won't beat about the bush," said Lusk stammering. "I've got to ask you something. I reckon you've guessed that I—that Shirley—"

Valiant touched the young fellow's arm. "Yes," he said, "I think I know."

"It's no new thing, with me," said the other hoarsely. "It's been three years. The night of the ball, I thought perhaps that—I don't mean to ask what you might have a right to resent—but I must find out. Is there any reason why I shouldn't try my luck?"

Valiant shook his head. "No," he said heavily, "there is no reason."

The boyish look sprang back to Lusk's face. He drew a long breath. "Why, then I will," he said. "I—I'm sorry if I hurt you. Heaven knows I didn't want to!"

He grasped the other's hand with a man's heartiness and went up the road with a swinging stride; and Valiant stood watching him go, with his hands tight-clenched at his side.

A little later Valiant climbed the sloping driveway of Damory court. It seemed to stare at him from a thousand reproachful eyes. The bachelor red squirrel from his tree-crotch looked down at him askance. The redbirds, flashing through the hedges, fluttered disconsolately. Fire-Cracker, the peacock, was shrieking from the upper lawn and the strident discord seemed to mock his mood.

The great house had become home to him; he told himself that he would make no other. The few things he had brought—his books and trophies—had grown to be a part of it, and they, should remain. The ax should not be laid to the walnut grove. As his father had done, he would leave behind him the life he had lived there, and the old court should be once more closed and deserted. Uncle Jefferson and Aunt Daphne might live on in the cabin back of the kitchens. There was pasture for the horse and the cows and for old Sukey, and some acres had already been cleared for planting. And there would be the swans, the ducks and chickens, the peafowl and the fish.

A letter had come to him that morning. The corporation had resumed business with credit unimpaired. Public opinion was more than friendly now. A place waited for him there, and one of added honor, in a concern that had rigorously cleansed itself and already looked forward to a new career of prosperity. But he thought of this now with no thrill. The old life no longer clung. There were still wide unpeopled spaces somewhere where a man's hand and brain were no less needed, and there was work there that would help him to bear, if not forget.

He paced up and down the porch under the great gray columns, his steps spiritless and lagging. The Virginia creeper, trailing over its end, waved to and fro with a sound like a sigh. How long would it be before the lawn was once more unkempt and dragged? Before burdock and thistle, mullein and Spanish-needle would return to smother the clover? Before Damory court, on which he had spent such loving labor, would be again as it lay that afternoon when he had rattled thither on Uncle Jefferson's crazy hack? Before there would be for him, in some far-away corner of the world, only Wishing-House and the Never-Never Land?

In the hall he stood a moment before the fireplace, his eyes on its carved motto, "I cling." The phrase was like a spear-thrust. He began to wander restlessly through the house, up and down, like a prowling animal. The dining-room looked austere and chill—only the little lady in hoops and love-curls who had been his great-grandmother smiled wistfully down from her gilt frame above the console—and in the library a melancholy deeper than that of yesterday's tragedy seemed to hang, through which Devil-John, drawing closer the leash of his leaping hound, glared sardonically at him from his one cold eye. The shutters of the parlor were closed, but he threw them open and let the rich light pierce the yellow gloom, glinting from the figures in the cabinet and weaving a thousand tiny rainbows in the prisms of the great chandelier.

He went upstairs, into the bedrooms one by one, now and then passing his hand over a polished chair-back or touching an ornament or a frame on the wall: into The Hilarium with its records of childish study and play. The dolls stood now on dress-parade in glass cases, and prints in bright colors, dear to little people, were on the walls. He opened the shutters here, too, and stood some time on the threshold before he turned and went heavily downstairs.

Through the rear door he could see the kitchens, and Aunt Daphne sitting under the trumpet-vine piecing a nine-patch calico quilt with little squares of orange and red and green cloth. Two diminutive darkies were sprawled on the ground looking up at her with round serious eyes, while a wary bantam pecked industriously about their bare legs.

"En den whut de roostah say, Aunt Daph?"

"Ol' roostah he hollah to all he wives, Oo—ooo! Oo—ooo! Young Mars' come!—Young Mars' come! Young Mars' come! En dey all mighty skeered, 'case Mars' John he cert'nly fond ob fried chick'n. But de big tuh key gobbler he don' bleeve at 'tall. Doubtful—doubtful—doubtful! he say, lak dat. Den de drake he peep eroun' de cornah, en he say, 'Haish! Haish! Haish! Po' he done seed Mars' John comin', sho' nuff. But et too late by den, fo' Aunt Daph she done grab Mis' Pullet, en Mars' John he gwine ter eat huh dis bery evenin' fo' he suppah. Now you chillun rurs erlong home ter yo' mummies, en don' yo' pick none ob dem green apples on de way, neidah."

It was not till after dark had come that Valiant said goodby to the garden. He loved it best under the starlight. He sat a long hour under the pergola overlooking the lake, where he could dimly see the green rocks, and the white froth of the water bubbling and chuckling down over their rounded outlines to the shrouded level below. The moon lifted finally and soared through the sky, blowing out the little lamps of stars. Under its light a gossamer mist robbed the landscape in a shimmering opalescence, in which tree and shrub altered their values and became transmitted to silver sentinels, watching over a demesne of violet-velvet shadows filled with sleepy twitterings and stealthy rustlings and the odor of wild honey-suckle.

At last he stood before the old sun-dial, rearing its column from its pearly clusters of blossoms. "I count no hours but the happy ones," he read the inscription with an undrawn breath. Then, groping at its base, he lifted the ivy that had once rambled there and drew up the tangle again over the stone disk. His Bride's-Garden!

In the library, an hour later, sitting at the big black pigeonholed desk, he wrote to Shirley:

"I am leaving tonight on the midnight train. Uncle Jefferson will give you this note in the morning. I will not stay at Damory court to bring more pain into your life. I am going very far away. I understand all you are feeling—and so, goodbye, goodbye. God keep you! I love you and I shall love you always, always!"

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

A Call For Recognition

Are there any hero medals applied for up to date? Is there one to fit a man obscure and humble in his fate. Yet one who risks his life and does the very best he can. To obviate the dangers that beset his fellow man; Who faces icy gales and never flinches from the blast; Who saves men, women, children, thinking of himself the last? Upon that simple citizen some passing thought bestow. Who puts ashes on the sidewalk after shoveling off the snow.

Oh, kind philanthropist, while honoring those whose records claim A public's admiration and a monument of fame. Conceive some decoration that will cause the family's eyes To look on dear old father as a hero and a prize! Think of the many mortals who, as they passed on in life, Were saved from fractured foreheads or concussion of the spine. In letters all unfading write it that the world may know.

"He put ashes on the sidewalk after shoveling off the snow."

TELLS WHY IMMIGRANTS FAIL IN MENTAL TESTS.

At Worst Upon Arrival, Says Federal Surgeon—Illiteracy Negligible.

The difficulties confronting the men who examine immigrants for the purpose of discovering their precise mental qualities, and especially whether they are defective, are discussed by Dr. E. K. Sprague, surgeon of the United States public health service, in the Survey. Where a doubt exists the alien should receive the benefit of it, he says.

These immigrants, says Dr. Sprague, are packed into box cars and rushed to the port of embarkation, where they are either subjected to an examination of more or less rigor before boarding the steamer or crowded into detention pens to await the sailing. Once embarked, new horrors await them. They suffer all the torments of those unaccustomed to the sea. After ten days or a fortnight they arrive in port, where a trial, in many respects the climax, awaits them. While they are in a condition of half fright and half sickness, with nerves shaken and courage at the lowest ebb, they must undergo a thorough medical examination. Many of them have also to undergo a test to prove that they possess sufficient intelligence to face the struggle for existence in their new environment.

Dr. Sprague observes that it would be well within bounds to say that many of these new immigrants are in a state of mental frenzy when they come up for examination and that the attitude of the interpreter may be such as to excite or even frighten the subject, placing him in such a state that he is far from able to do himself justice.

"The examiner must discriminate," warns Dr. Sprague. "It is necessary to differentiate between ignorance, mental dullness or stupidity, psychic depression and congenital mental deficiency. Is the depression temporary? Is the subject capable of mental development, and will he avail himself of opportunities to that end? Such are the difficulties and questions arising daily."

Concerning the question of illiteracy, Dr. Sprague says:

"Illiteracy is almost always a negligible consideration in this and in other countries where psychic research has been carried on. Among Americans if one cannot read or write and any intelligent attempts have been made to acquire these elementary accomplishments the case is of easy solution. Illiteracy runs very high among the immigrants—35 to 40 per cent. The fact that they cannot read or write is no criticism of their ability, but it renders them more difficult to handle."

A THEATER FOR THE FARM.

North Dakota College Plans Model For Homes, Schools and Churches.

A new force for culture in rural communities has been initiated by the North Dakota agricultural college in the "little country theater" enterprise, according to Dean W. T. Sumner, clergyman and sociologist of Chicago.

"The plan is original and I predict it will extend over the entire United States," he said.

The idea, which was advanced by Professor Arvid, in charge of public speaking and debating at the college, calls for the establishing of a model theater in miniature, suitable for use in large farm houses, country school houses, village halls, churches and elsewhere. The scenery is simple, readily and cheaply constructed by the inexperienced from a set of rough plans. The idea is to have one act productions in order to make the expense small.

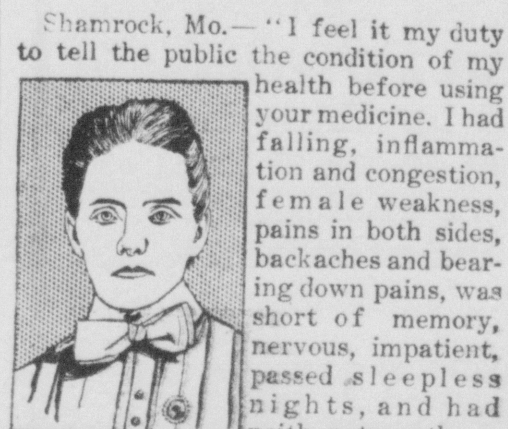

Dean Sumner says the enterprise will be an incentive to communities to organize consolidated rural schools and social centers in order to have larger and more convenient halls.

Fossil of Pliocene Man?

The first seeming proof that man lived in the Pliocene age, when the earth's surface began to assume its present form, has come to view in the La Brea (Cal.) clay beds, where Dr. Frank S. Daggett, director of the Museum of History, Science and Art, has men at work uncovering prehistoric bones. The find is declared to be the skeleton of a man who lived on earth hundreds of thousands of years ago.

REMARKABLE CASE of Mrs. HAM

Declares Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Saved Her Life and Sanity.

Shamrock, Mo.—"I feel it my duty to tell the public the condition of my health before using your medicine. I had falling, inflammation and congestion, female weakness, pains in both sides, backaches and bearing down pains, was short of memory, nervous, impatient, passed sleepless nights, and had neither strength nor energy. There was always a fear and dread in my mind, I had cold, nervous, weak spells, hot flashes over my body. I had a place in my right side that was so sore that I could hardly bear the weight of my clothes. I tried medicines and doctors, but they did me little good, and I never expected to get out again. I got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier, and I certainly would have been in grave or in an asylum if your medicines had not saved me. But now I can work all day, sleep well at night, eat anything I want, have no hot flashes or weak, nervous spells. All pains, aches, fears and dreads are gone, my house, children and husband are no longer neglected, as I am almost entirely free of the bad symptoms I had before taking your remedies, and all is pleasure and happiness in my home."

How Is Your Boiler?

It has been stated that man's stomach is his boiler, his body is his engine and his mouth the fire box. If you have any trouble with your stomach Chamberlain's Tablets will do you good. They strengthen and invigorate the stomach and enable it to do its work naturally. Many very remarkable cures of stomach trouble have been effected by them. For sale by all dealers.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

FAREWELL PARTY.

The neighbors and friends of Mrs. William Ahlert gave her a farewell party Friday evening at her home on Brown street. She will leave for her new home in Terre Haute where she will join Mr. Ahlert who left here several weeks ago. The evening was spent in social conversation and before the guests returned to their homes, they were served with a two course luncheon. Mr. and Mrs. Ahlert have made their home in Seymour for a number of years and their many friends regret to have them leave.

COURT OF HONOR.

The members and friends of the Court of Honor Lodge were pleasantly entertained Friday evening after the regular business session by the social committee who gave a play for the entertainment of the members and their visitors. A company of members from the Columbus Court of Honor Lodge were present. Refreshments of cream and cake and coffee were served and the pleasant evening was enjoyed. The Seymour Court installed the Court at Columbus several weeks ago and it is doing some splendid work.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE.

George Stahl, a prominent farmer living south of the city, was very pleasantly surprised Friday night when the members of the male choir of the German Lutheran church and a number of his neighbors called to spend the evening in honor of his birthday anniversary. He was presented with a handsome rocking chair. Refreshments were served and the evening was most enjoyable.

WHITSON-FARR.

Ham Whitson and Miss Minnie Farr, of Dudleytown, were quietly married Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Alice Whitson, on Laurel street by Rev. E. H. Eggers, pastor of the German Lutheran church. Only the immediate relatives witnessed the ceremony. They will reside in this city.

NEW PULLMAN RATES GO INTO EFFECT MARCH 1

Increased Fares Will be Charged On All Large Railroads For Drawing Rooms.

By United Press.

Washington, February 28.—Beginning tomorrow two can live as cheaply as one, at least in so far as riding in Pullman car drawing rooms is concerned, for an order increasing the cost of high living goes into effect on all the large railroads. Ordinary Pullman berth rates are not effected, but where a single passenger wants a drawing room compartment, all to himself he will have to pay 2, 2½ or 3 times the railroad fare plus the Pullman rate, according to the road and train.

On the New York Central lines no drawing room or compartment will be sold to a passenger who has not purchased two railroad tickets, and those who wish such accommodations on the Empire State Limited between New York City and Buffalo will have to buy three tickets. The Pennsylvania lines will hereafter require the purchase of tickets aggregating 2½ times the regular fare between two points before selling a drawing room to a passenger. None of the increase will go to the Pullman Company, whose contracts with the various roads remain in force. The increase was not ordered or instigated by the Interstate Commerce Commission and the sole duty of that body will be to see that the new rule is enforced impartially.

A son was born February 27, to Mr. and Mrs. George W. Meyers, of south Vine street.

Hairbreadth Harry—Belinda Is Rescued by the Imps

POOR BELINDA MIRACULOUSLY SAVED HERSELF FROM RUDOLPH BUT WHAT'S THE USE? JUST PIPE THE HORRIBLE DEAL SHE'S UP AGAINST NOW? PRETTY RUNK!

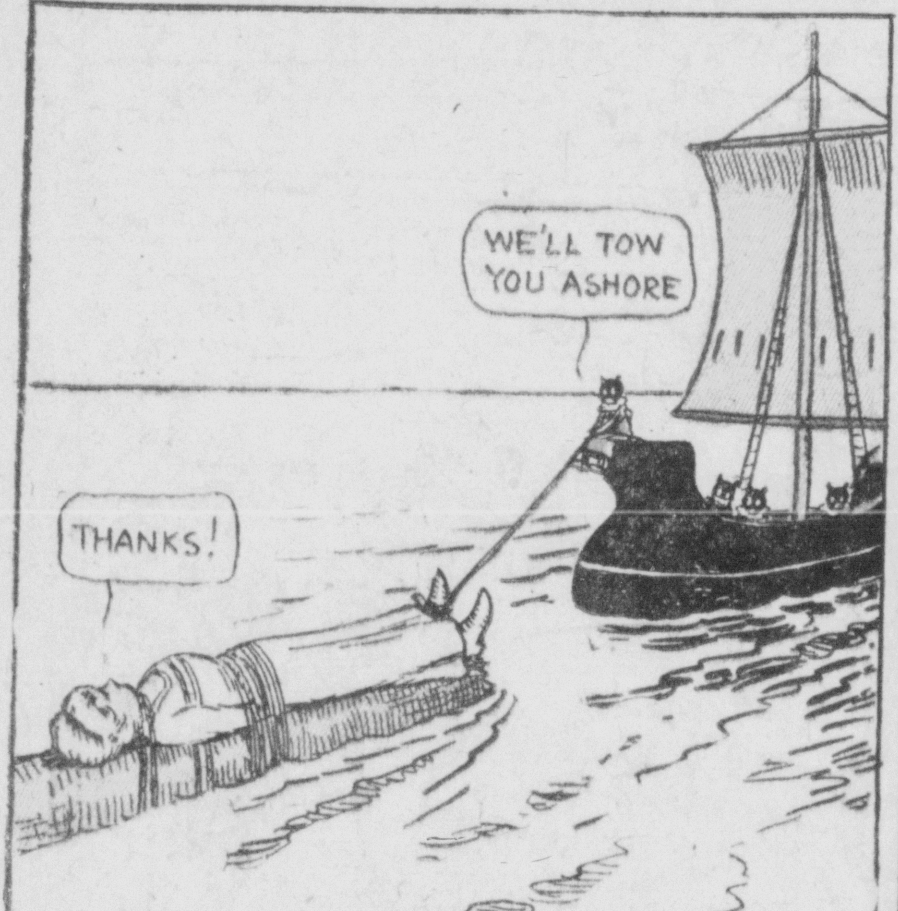

THIS INTERESTING LITTLE BIT SHOWS THAT FISHING IS ABOUT AS EXCITING A SPORT IN FAR OFF IMPORIA AS IT IS WITH US, AND AS PRODUCTIVE OF RESULTS.

BUT HERE'S SOMETHING TO BREAK THE DULL MONOTONY OF A NIBBLELESS DAY, ANYWAY. IT MAY NOT BE A FISH BUT IT MAY MAKE A GOOD FISH STORY.

IT'S A VERY LUCKY THING FOR BELINDA ED IN THIS DIRECTION BECAUSE SHE WAS THE IMPS ONCE AND THEY HAVE NOT FO

IN THE STORYBOOKS HEROINES USUALLY ARE RESCUED IN A MORE DIGNIFIED WAY THAN THIS BUT THAT ONLY PROVES THAT TRUTH IS STRANGER THAN FICTION.

IN THE MEANTIME OUR HERO IS SCOUTING ALL OVER IMPORIA FOR BELINDA AND HAS COME UPON NO TANGIBLE CLUE UNTIL THE PRESENT MOMENT.

EVENTS ARE NOW RUSHING BLINDLY, IRRESISTIBLY, INEXORABLY TO A TERRIBLE CLIMAX, WHICH WE ARE POWERLESS TO PREVENT AND SHUDDER TO BEHOLD!

Dear Friends.—I know you would have enjoyed being with me when we had our spelling bee. The principal complimented me very much, as I held the head of the class most of the time. Marjorie and I had quite a tussle for first honors but I finally won out. I am showing you our principal and also a little boy who stayed at the foot of the class all the time. He got the "booby prize," which was a dunce cap. Grandma and Grandpa were especially proud of me, and it made me very happy to hear them say nice things about me. However, Marjorie deserves just as much credit, for although she didn't win it was by the close margin of one misspelled word.

And what do you think that word was? Why none other than the simple word separate. Margie must have been day dreaming or something, for she spelled it "seperate," and after she'd finished spelling it she realized her mistake, but of course it was too late then. However, simple as it is, it is somewhat of a catch-word, as so many persons spell it with an e instead of an a.

Hope you're doing finely in SEWING SOCIETY work and, of course, this is the time of year to do the most good. A few days ago the mail brought me a great bunch of letters, everyone of which told me of the great success my friends were having in this noble work for the poor. Now I must close for this time, dear friends, asking that you think often of your loving,
